

Alaska, 2000

University of Alaska

Assessment Coordinator, seeking approval from the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities (NWCCU) for a University of Applied Science (AAS) Commission has approved degree program in Renewable Resources. The Commission has approved to provide the following information to the Commission regarding the proposed program University.

The Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities apprised of the proposed program at University of Alaska Fairbanks.

The following information regarding the proposed program and its development and initiation

University of Alaska Fairbanks